

// Capital Markets Day 2021

Dr. Robert (Bob) Reiter

Head of Research & Development, Crop Science Division of Bayer

Dr. Bob Reiter oversees the R&D pipeline for the Crop Science Division of Bayer, leading thousands of scientists in the creation of world-class sustainable agricultural solutions with the goal of helping farmers grow enough safe and affordable food while protecting the planet. Previously, Bob was the Global Vice President of Research & Development Integration Strategy at Monsanto. He has 30 years of experience in discovering, developing and delivering innovative R&D solutions in crop science. Bob is based in Monheim, Germany.