Bayer Procurement Four-Step Management Process

To improve sustainability practices within the supply chain we follow a Four-Step Management Process.

The Bayer Supplier Code of Conduct sets forth principles on Ethics, People & Labor, Health, Safety and Environment, Quality Awareness and Governance & Management Systems. We expect our suppliers to adhere to these principles and replicate them further down the supply chain. Strategically important suppliers and suppliers with a high Nomination sustainability risk are selected for sustainability evaluations. Performance Nominated suppliers are either audited on-site by external auditors or through an online assessment conducted. Evaluation If deficiencies are identified in an evaluation, we develop corrective actions together with the respective suppliers to Development comply with ethical, social, and environmental principles in the future.
